

Alyssa Vinsonhaler - White Supremacy's So-Called Antifa Convert

Published on Mar 15, 2019

A recent addition to Patriot Prayer’s mob of far-right activists, Alyssa Vinsonhaler quickly made herself a key player in white nationalist Haley Adams’ entourage by presenting herself as a “former member” of antifa. In promoting herself as a so-called insider source on the radical left, she’s given Adams and others fresh targets for harrassment and facile rhetorical fodder for their bigoted agenda.

While Vinsonhaler's tacit claim to membership in Rose City Antifa is entirely false, a short-lived correspondence between Vinsonhaler and Rose City Antifa did occur when she contacted us with an interest in working with our organization in 2018. We promptly declined for two main reasons: her understanding of anti-fascism and left-wing politics in general was virtually nonexistent, and she had very recently applied to become a police officer in the city of Gresham. Her failure to advance beyond this preliminary stage of vetting was the extent of her “relationship” with RCA. Any further association that Vinsonhaler claims with RCA is a lie. While it is possible she may have had other contact with anti-fascist groups or individuals, we would not be surprised if her entire claimed tenure as an anti-fascist stems from this brief communication and some other assorted social media posts during the time period.

To our group, the idea that Vinsonhaler could describe herself both as a Marxist and desire to be a cop showed that she had little-to-no understanding of class relations and the political realities of police forces in the United States. It is not simply a matter of her not being “radical” enough, it is that her politics, as stated, were incoherent. The close timeframe of her applications to two fundamentally antagonistic groups didn’t give the impression of a dependable, careful, or principled person. She appeared to RCA to be drifting, attempting to gain entry to whatever group would accept her.

After this rejection, Rose City Antifa's correspondence with Vinsonhaler resumed briefly in December of 2018 when she sent a message to explain that she had undertaken a plot to “infiltrate” Patriot Prayer– an operation which apparently consisted of attending Haley Adams’ far-right demonstrations, adding to their numbers, and repeating their talking points into whatever cameras happened to be nearby: in essence, miming the far-right, just as she had previously mimed being a “Marxist.” The fact that she alerted us to her actions unprompted seemed to further the idea that she was seeking some sort of acceptance or clout in the political scene, rather than attempting to achieve worthwhile goals.

Alyssa,
What you are doing is not infiltration, but collaboration, as Haley is using you to further her own agenda and messaging. We would advise you to stop doing this.

Okay, emailing you because I've been recommended to by my Antifa friends. My friend and I have gone undercover with Haley Adam's offshoot of Patriot Prayer in Portland. I've been out in the counter protests with your organization in both August and November. Recently, I saw an opportunity to infiltrate their organization, and so far I have their complete trust. This is my second time being undercover like this. I am hoping I am not doxxed, I just want them to think I'm a friend so they can say the fucked up stuff they normally wouldn't say in public or to you, as well as feed them false info. I applied through your organization before, but was denied, and I know you already have all my info from the interview. I am using an alibi with them and a fake backstory. I am reporting all info I gather through signal to an antifa group I am a part of, I know the risks, and I'm ready for whatever happens. Any further questions, I'll be happy to answer. Thank you.

Vinsonhaler was also present on both January 17 and 19 of this year when various Patriot Prayer members and Proud Boys including Tiny Toese, James Johnson, Jason James, Joey Gibson, and Steve Drury instigated altercations and assaulted passers-by outside the Industrial Workers of the World union hall on NE Burnside. Later in the day on the 19th, Vinsonhaler travelled downtown with the rest of the far-right crowd, where she marched in an anti-choice rally hosted by an organization which seeks to curtail the bodily autonomy of all people who experience pregnancy.

Arguably the most disturbing detail of Vinsonhaler’s conversion is her newfound enthusiasm for rebuilding the former African apartheid state of Rhodesia in the Pacific Northwest. During the Cold War, the anti-colonial civil war in what is now Zimbabwe became an international magnet for white supremacist mercenaries seeking violence(sometimes recruited via advertisements in mercenary-themed magazines). Today, legends of an international squad of white nationalists fighting a doomed war for blood and soil provide the alt-right with a potent sense of nostalgia; notably, mass murderer Dylann Roof titled his manifesto GIDG ad YÄ đĐr KGYä Ö. It's not by coincidence that the post below, and Vinsonhaler's expressed approval, also echo one of the most durable concepts in US white nationalist and neo-Nazi politics: the Northwest Territorial Imperative.

We cannot know what the exact motivations behind Vinsonhaler's sudden political conversions were or are. Perhaps she is simply lashing out in response to perceived social rejection, using whatever support she can get from the far-right's bigoted rejects and wash-outs. Unfortunately, this is a not-uncommon political conversion story: people who seek out left activism for social capital rather than for the ethical necessity of the work often end up flip-flopping between opposing ideologies, taking advantage of any and every opportunity to further their own personal status. That said, there is no social or interpersonal context that could excuse

Vinsonhaler's newfound enthusiasm for spreading genocidal memes and white nationalist talking points. And her sudden willingness to publicly ally with violent white supremacists– whose collaboration with overt fascists and neo-Nazis is well-documented– makes her a threat to all community members who engage in solidarity and self-defense against fascist encroachment.
